ABOUT DRDO

The Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), under the Ministry of Defence, fosters self-reliance in defence technologies. DRDO was established in 1958, presently operates 41 laboratories and 5 Young Scientist Labs, advancing aeronautics, missiles, radars, and more. Key achievements include the Agni and Astra missiles, Tejas aircraft, Akash air defence system, Arjun Tank and advanced electronic warfare systems. Guided by the motto "Balasya Mulam Vigyanam" (Strength lies in Science), DRDO strengthens India's military with cutting-edge technologies.

ABOUT BENGALURU

Bengaluru, well-known as India's "Silicon Valley" and "Intellectual Capital," is a prominent hub of innovation and technology. Esteemed institutions like the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), organisations such as ISRO, HAL, ASTE and various DRDO Labs reinforce its leadership in aerospace and research. With a temperate climate & lush greenery, the "Garden City" is equally known for its vibrant markets offering traditional crafts like silk and sandalwood. Seamlessly blending a rich cultural heritage with a forward-thinking spirit, Bengaluru stands out as a renowned center for business, research, and cultural exchange.
